Meet some of our current volunteers
Meet Lynn.

Retired public educator focused on gifted education and early childhood development and education.

National expert on identifying bright and gifted learners and how to develop and use appropriate differentiation tools for successful and creative instruction.

I also deliver a parenting class called Every Baby Needs A Lap Top (YOUR lap top as your baby's first teacher!) for the United Way.

Contribution

Lynn has been an instrumental instructor for the Lewisburg Children's Museum parenting sessions. She has been an active Advisory Board member since 2019.
Meet Tracy.

Tracy worked in the public school system for 13 years. She is now a Math & Business teacher at McCann School of Business and Technology.

Tracy and her husband Jared have 4 children ranging from Kindergarten to 6th grade.
